An opportunity to hear from some of the country’s leading experts on blending historic preservation with vibrant downtowns, this afternoon program will explore the potential of Downtown Miami’s richly historic built environment and study the value of historic preservation as an economic engine. Featuring a panel of nationally-recognized preservation and development specialists, this event will explore heritage tourism opportunities and outline actions we can take to create more sustainable, preservation-oriented development and economic growth. Following the panel discussion, join us for a tour of the Freedom Tower, a distinctively preserved Miami architectural and cultural landmark.

This is an event of Dade Heritage Days, a celebration of historic places presented by Dade Heritage Trust.

This program is made possible by historic preservation grant assistance from the National Park Service, U.S. Department of Interior, administered through the Bureau of Historic Preservation, Division of Historical Resources, Florida Department of State, assisted by the Florida Historical Commission.

2:00pm	Registration & Networking – Coffee, soft drinks and cookies will be served
2:30pm	Panel Discussion Introduction & Moderation: Arva Moore Parks , Former Member, Federal Advisory Council on Historic Preservation Donovan Rypkema , Principal, PlaceEconomics, Washington D.C.
